ASMAC SPONSORSHIP REQUIREMENT:

Attorneys not substantially and regularly engaged as in-house counsel in the service of a county or state medical association or society within the federation of the American Medical Association, or any state or national medical specialty society (meeting the criteria for representation in the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association), or other national medical association for such association or society, must receive sponsorship in their initial year of membership.

Sponsorship must be provided by an eligible association that meets the criteria for representation in the AMA House of Delegates in order to qualify for membership. Sponsorship should be completed and signed by the association/society's in-house counsel, director or chief officer.

The above attorney is substantially engaged in the representation of physicians and physician interests and/or represents/counsels this association or society. I would like to sponsor the above applicant for ASMAC membership.
